

HTJ RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT <sup>INFRA</sup>

---

HTJ's quality concept includes active participation in infra development projects. This has been made possible by the extensive and versatile experience gained in various infra projects.

HTJ has participated in several infra related research and development projects which have resulted in document templates, training activity and publications. An example of recent development projects is participation in the InfraRYL project.